THE NEWS OF THE WEEK.

A Daily Resume of Important Happenings.

JULY 10.

In an interview at Danville last night the Hon. John W. Yerkes said that under no circumstances would he become a candidate for Governor.

J. M. McKnight, the former Louisville banker, is now behind the bars of the Federal penitentiary at Atlanta. He will be known on the prison records as "No. 609."

Insultation to orders is given as the official reason for the Southern railroad wreck near Charlottesville, Va., Tuesday, in which over a score of lives were lost. The conductor of the freight train, who misread orders, is now in jail.

Clay Purcell, charged with the murder of Gordon Wells and Matt Nickell in Morgan county, has been arrested and indicted. A party of armed men forced William Baker, an alleged accomplice in the killing, to reveal Purcell's hiding place.

A secret conference was held by Russian officials at Port Arthur. It is thought that the Russians believe the possibility of war is increasing and that their policy will be to fight Japan if Japan is unable, and to maintain possession of Manchuria.

Officers at the Lexington jail yesterday found six steel saws hidden in the cell of Claude O'Brien. Jailor Wallace has issued strict orders that no one, relative included, be permitted to see or converse with O'Brien and Whitney. The death watch will be placed on the prisoners at once.

Secretary Hay was in conference with the President at Oyster Bay on foreign affairs, the Kishinev petition being among other things considered. It has not been decided how this petition will be presented to Russia. It may be sent to the American Embassy at St. Petersburg or a cablegram may be sent to ascertain whether the Russian Government will receive it.

After a hearing of two hours duration at Richmond yesterday a jury pronounced Gen. Cassius M. Clay to be of sound mind and incapable of attending to his business affairs. The court appointed a committee to take charge of his estate and to look after his personal comfort. Gen. Clay was too ill to appear in court. Two physicians and about eight other witnesses testified as to his mental condition.

No further disorder is feared at Evansville, as it is thought that the 500 militiamen on the ground have the situation thoroughly in hand. The coroner's inquest was begun yesterday and the grand jury returned a number of indictments against rioters. The funerals of six victims will be held today, and will be accompanied by details of militia to insure order. The dead now number ten. Lee Brown will probably be returned to Evansville today or tomorrow from Jeffersonville. His trial will take place at once, and a speedy conviction is expected.

JULY 11.

A suit covering two claims aggregating $9,418 has been filed at Shelbyville against the estate of the late William C. Horsey by Nat. R. Blankenship and Robert C. French. Blankenship is seeking to recover $1,415 for his services as an undertaker, and French's claim of $8,000 for nursing Mr. Horsey in his last illness.

Steps are being taken by Gen. McKee, in command at Evansville, to withdraw the troops, as order has been entirely restored. The grand jury is conducting its investigations secretly. Depots are being guarded to prevent the escape of those concerned in the rioting. It is expected that 100 indictments may be returned at the regular term of court. He is considered in no danger from the effects of his wound.

Pope Leo XIII. has lived through another day, the night bringing the conclusion to those around him in the Vatican that the end is only a question of hours, or at most of a few days. Hopes were raised during the morning hours by the unusual strength displayed by the Pontiff. He arose, partially dressed himself, walked about the sick chamber and was shaved. During the afternoon a relapse came, and Dr. Lappini has abandoned all hope of a recovery. After a minute examination the physicians in the early evening issued a bulletin in which encouragement was absent.

Preparations for the end have been made by both the Pope and the officials of the Vatican. His holiness has expressed his wishes concerning his grave and burial.

Cardinals from everywhere are hastening to Rome to attend the conclave following the death. Cardinal Gibbons sailed yesterday from New York. Monsignor Volpi, recently appointed secretary of the Consistorial congregation, died yesterday, but the news was kept from the Pope.

JULY 12.

Twenty-two deaths and sixty-five prostrations occurred in and around New York and Brooklyn Friday from heat.

The average condition of the growing corn crop July 15 was 74.9; of winter wheat, 79.6; spring wheat, 82.5; oats, 84.3.

Representative James, of the First Kentucky district, now in Washington, expresses confidence that the Democrats will present a united front in the presidential campaign, and that a national as well as a Kentucky victory for the party seems certain.

The case of Mrs. Anna Oppenheimer, charged with poisoning her child, was called at Cincinnati yesterday, but was postponed until Monday because of the absence of two of the witnesses for the prosecution. Mrs. Oppenheimer's parents sat by her side in the court room.

In an address before the Christian Endeavor convention in Denver the Rev. P. H. Beach declared that so great was the greed of foreign nations in securing Chinese concessions that if the Chinese held the spirit of 1776 there would not be a foreigner or missionary left in the country.

The grand jury at Evansville yesterday returned about sixty indictments against rioters. Two more funerals of riot victims were held yesterday. Two men in hospitals are in a critical condition. Many negroes, frightened away by the recent demonstrations, will not return. It is estimated that the colored population of Evansville will be reduced by 1,000.

In an interview at New Orleans Gen. O. O. Howard suggests road building and the restriction of the ballot as a remedy for feuds, labor troubles and negro troubles. He said he would favor confining the ballot to persons who can read understandingly the Constitution of the United States, the restriction not to take effect until ten or fifteen years hence.

Lafayette Brooks, of Morgan county, one of the notorious convicts in the Frankfort penitentiary, attempted suicide yesterday by leaping from the third story of the shoe factory, a distance of forty feet. He sustained injuries which it is believed will result fatally. Brooks figured in the outbreak at the Frankfort penitentiary last year, when Wallace Bishop, a fellow convict, was killed. He was sent up from Morgan county in 1879 to serve a twenty-one year sentence for manslaughter.

The Kishinev petition of the Bnai Brith may yet reach the czar because of a quarrel between Ministers De Witte and Plehve. The former is friendly to the United States and will attempt to have the petition advanced over Plehve's objections. The Russian Ambassador in London has refused to receive from the Catholic Herald a petition relative to the treatment of negroes in the United States. It is said the petition will be forwarded directly to the czar.

Little general change for better or worse occurred yesterday in the condition of Pope Leo, though after a second surgical operation he showed temporary relief and resumed the activity that has made his physicians marvel at his will of iron. His sleep last night and this morning was again restless and was aided by the use of chloral.

Cardinal Gibbons was yesterday placed in the class of papal possibilities, the expediency of the election of a foreign Pope on account of the intense rivalry between the Italian candidates. It is pointed out that these differences may lead to a coalition in favor of some cardinal outside of Italy.

Eight hundred arrests have been made by the Russian authorities as a result of the Kishinev massacre.

The Russian Government has been stirred to action by protests on the Kishinev massacre, and has moved to a vigorous prosecution. Eight hundred arrests have been made, and several hundred prisoners have been held for trial.

Rufus Cantrell, king of the Indianapolis ghettos, has made a confession relative to the disappearance and death of Miss Carrie Salvago, of Indianapolis. Cantrell intimated that he could clear up several murder mysteries the police had failed to solve.

Russian officials at Port Arthur, give out as the object of their conference the gathering of information relative to Russian interests in the Far East. War talk is deprecated, though preparations are being made to re-enforce the present arm of 30,000 men by the addition of 10,000 troops. Unusual military activity prevails.

Samuel D. McKenney, of Alton, Ill., before the Baptist Young People's Convention, declared that Northern people should cease putting "Uncle Tom's Cabin" in the hands of children to read, engendering feeling and bitterness. He said that the North should cease giving ear to prattle against the South, and should unite in praising Southern leaders.

It has been learned that the defense in the trial of Curtis Jett and Tom White may ask for a continuance at Cincinnati on the ground that the evidence as given in the preceding trial has not been furnished them. Ed Osler the stenographer, says the manuscript has been in readiness for a week, and that there has been no call for it. Judge Osborne is said to be of the opinion that a postponement cannot be secured.

The evident preponderance of opinion in Rome is that the life spark in the bosom of Pope Leo XII. is almost extinguished, in the face of encouraging bulletins from his physicians. Cardinal Satoli last night declared that life was kept in the body only by the use of powerful stimulants. In behalf of the position taken the physicians, it is stated that past surprises and the remarkable will of the Pontiff argue for their leaning toward optimism. A lottery on the Pope's illness is conducted by the Italian Government. Yesterday's numbers were on the Pope, the disease and the Cardinal.

JULY 14.

Turkish and Bulgarian troops have clashed on the frontier. More soldiers have been called out by the Sultan's Government.

William Ernest Henley, the English poet and collaborator with Robert Louis Stevenson in many plays, is dead at his home at Woking.

Prominent negro leaders of Indianapolis are effecting an organization to rid the town of worthless negroes in order to avert the possibility of a race war.

The Kishinev Relief Committee has received the sum of 192,500 roubles from America and 363,700 roubles from Russia. The total receipts are 556,200 roubles.

Secretary of War Root will spend the day at Oyster Bay, discussing with the President the army contract investigation and Alaskan Boundary Commission matters.

John Terrell, a farmer, broke into a doctor's office at Bluffton, Ind., and shot and killed his son-in-law, Melvin Wolfe, who was being operated on for a wound inflicted by Terrell during the afternoon.

Correspondence from Tokyo indicates that the war feeling is growing. Several meetings of the Japanese Cabinet have followed the report that a secret convention has been signed by Russia and China.

It is said that if Mr. Roosevelt is President in 1908, when changes occur in the army staff, Gen. MacArthur will be left out in the cold and Gen. Wood will be promoted over his head to Lieutenant General Commanding.

Charles F. Murphy, Tammany leader, declares that New York City was better served under the Tammany Dock Board than under the Strong and Low boards. He attacks the present administration for leasing Pier 34 to Gov. Odell's steamboat company, on which transaction, he says, the city lost $480,000.

Catarth of the Stomach.

When the stomach is overloaded; when food is taken into it that fails to digest, it decays and inflames the mucous membrane, exposing the nerves, and causes the glands to secrete much, instead of the natural juices of digestion. This is called Catarth of the Stomach. For years I suffered with Catarth of the Stomach, caused by indigestion. Doctors and medicines failed to benefit me until I used Kodol Dyspepsia Cure. J. R. Rhoads, Coppell, Tex. Sold by Louisa Drug Co. J. D. Biggs Mgr.

Arrangements are being made to celebrate the seventieth birthday of the Chinese Dowager Empress next November. More than $10,000,000 is being secured for the celebration.

The Foundation of Health.

Nourishment is the foundation of health—life—strength. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is the one great medicine that enables the stomach and digestive organs to digest assimilate and transform all foods into the kind of blood that nourishes the nerves and feeds the tissues. Kodol lays the foundation for health. Nature does the rest. Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and all disorders of the stomach and digestive organs are cured by Kodol. Sold by Louisa Drug Co. J. D. Biggs Mgr.

Treat your kidneys for Rheumatism.

When you are suffering from rheumatism, the kidneys must be attended to at once so that they will eliminate the uric acid from the blood. Foley's Kidney Cure is the most effective remedy for this purpose. R. T. Hopkins, of Polar, Wis., says, "After unsuccessfully doctoring three years for rheumatism with the best doctors, I tried Foley's Kidney Cure and it cured me. I cannot speak too highly of this great medicine." Sold by Louisa Drug Co.

GOV. BECKHAM

Replies to and Defies his Critics in Assassination Matters.

In response to many requests from over the State Gov. Beckham has issued a statement in reference to his position in the Breathitt county matter, making public the steps he has taken since the assassination of James B. Marcum and the arrest of Curtis Jett, charged with the crime, to bring the assassins to justice and restore peace and order to that community. He also answers the critics of Kentucky and other States, and says the effort to throw odium on the entire State on account of the Breathitt county trouble is due solely to sectional hate and political expediency.

The Governor goes into detail as to the steps he has taken in the matter, showing that in the main his authority to act has been only of an advisory character, but that this he has exercised, and is still exercising with the District Court officials of Breathitt. He says he believes Judge Redwine to be an honest and capable Judge, but that he urged him before the recent special term was held not to preside in the trial of the Jett case, but to transfer it to another county and permit the appointment of a special Judge.

Following this explanation the Governor turns his attention to the people, who, he says, exulted in the death by assassination of Wm. Goebel, and who, he adds, would rejoice to see murder every day in Breathitt county if it would make for them political capital against himself and the Democratic party. He severely scores the Republican newspapers of the State and denounces the charges that have been made with reference to Breathitt county pardons. He contrasts his pardon record with that of Gov. Bradley, and declares that he is willing to stand by the record he has made.

GOV. BECKHAM'S STATEMENT.

Gov. Beckham's statement is as follows:

"A great many letters have come to me in the last few weeks, some from those who are friends, some from those who are not, urging me to use radical measures in dealing with the unfortunate trouble in Breathitt county, to declare martial law and to have trials of the accused by court-martial, to remove Judges and other officials, and in fact to do most anything for which there is absolutely no warrant of law to do upon the part of the executive. A number of newspapers in the State, some kindly in their feelings towards me, others most hostile and bitter, have come out in heavy editorials and said 'it was up to the Governor to do something' to put a stop to this lawlessness and crime. None of them, however, with one honorable exception, ever suggested in their infinite wisdom a plan to the Governor, as to what he should do. All seemed to hint at a declaration of martial law. I have been left in the dark by these sagacious critics, with their various feelings and purposes, as to whether it was best for me to consume this lawlessness with fiery rhetoric and noisy pronouncements, or to throw to the winds the Constitution of the State and to boldly enter the scene of trouble with arms and ammunition, snap my fingers at Judges, Commonwealth's Attorneys and juries and defiantly proclaim that I was the Czar of Kentucky, and not its chief peace officer, who has a conscientious regard for the obligations of an oath, and who humbly respects the fundamental laws of his State.

THE "YELLOW JOURNALS."

"These criticisms, friendly or unfriendly, have not swerved me in the least from the pathway of what I have conceived to be my duty and the just responsibilities of my high office. I care not one particle for the Pharisaical censure of these yellow journals of the East and North, whose mercenary greed for a salable romance and whose partisan hatred of a Southern neighbor make them define and misrepresent the great and good people because one county of 119 in the State has recently been the scene of certain crimes and violations of the law. It has become a fashion and a fad with these papers to picture in the most lurid and sensational type a killing in Kentucky, when the slaughter of and entire family in their locality is not dignified with a dozen lines.

"LONG DISTANCE WARRIORS."

"The calling of the entire National Guard to suppress a strike, where hundreds may be slain, does not attract one-half the notice from these venal journals as does the use of one company of Kentucky militia in aiding some Circuit Court in the trial of a criminal.

An illustration of this might be found in the recent trouble in Breathitt, where it was difficult to tell whether the war correspondent or the soldier outnumbered the other, and those ferocious and unarmed long-distance warriors, safely guarded against danger to their valiant persons, breathed forth threats of war and told an eager and expectant public what a Governor, a Judge or a military commander should do. These outside critics need not be considered. When they succeed in eradicating crime, or at least in reducing it, in their own States, then we may give them a respectful hearing in their efforts to tell us how to purify Kentucky. The Breathitt county trouble is altogether local, and the effort to throw odium on the entire State on account of it is due solely to sectional hate or political expediency.

THE PEOPLE IMPATIENT.

"It is with critics in our own State that I propose to deal. The people in the whole State have been indignantly and justly aroused over the crimes recently committed in that county, and in their impulsive resentment against the guilty have been a little impatient for results. Their feeling about the situation is to be commended, for it shows the character of our noble and law-abiding people. They have demanded prompt and vigorous action in dealing with the trouble. It may seem surprising to those in the least familiar with our Constitution, but it is a fact that nearly all the demands made upon me for action have been that I declare martial law there and have all cases tried by court-martial. That has been the advice given by most of my critics. I would pay no attention to it whatever, except that it comes in many instances from people and newspapers of intelligence, who are not seeking to make political capital out of the matter, but want to see justice done, and in their impatience have forgotten that the Governor of Kentucky has absolutely no such right arbitrary power he would be and ought to be impeached.

THE GOVERNOR'S POWER.

The power to declare martial law, which, of course, carries with it the subversion of civil law and establishes trials by military courts, is the highest form of tyranny and has no place in our Constitution and laws.

"Charles I. lost his head and James II. lost his throne for committing no greater offenses than the Governor of Kentucky would commit if he would assume and seek to use such an unwarranted power. The Constitution of our State and the Constitution of the United States guarantee to every man accused of crime the right of trial by jury, and that life, liberty or property shall not be taken away from him without due process of law. The Constitution of Kentucky further declares that the military power shall always be in strict subordination to the civil authorities. When the Governor calls troops into service he is compelled by law to place them under some local civil officer. He has no right to remove a Judge, a Commonwealth's Attorney, or any other district or county official. If he has any authority over them whatever it is purely of an advisory character. In some States the Governor has the right to remove a Sheriff, which gives him considerable power in dealing with infractions of the law. In Kentucky no such power exists. The Governor has no right to transfer a case or change the venue to another county, nor to remove the regular Judge and appoint a special Judge in his place. Only when the regular Judge declines to sit can the Governor appoint.

"A great many people have not realized or thought of all these limitations and restrictions on the power of the Governor, and some have honestly, though ignorantly, criticized me in the matter. I have done everything possible to aid in the punishment of crime and the suppression of lawlessness in that county. No one has regretted more than I have the unfortunate situation there. I have given it the most earnest thought and the most serious consideration of which I am capable, and I have tried to do my full duty, without fear or favor, and with the sincere desire to see the guilty punished, whoever they might be. I have been active in every way possible to aid the enforcement of the law.

CONFIDENCE IN REDWINE.

"While I believe Judge Redwine to be an honest and capable Judge, I urged him several days before his court began not to try these cases himself, but to transfer them to another county, or to allow me to appoint another Judge. I feared that convictions might not be had in Breathitt county. But he

A SERIOUS SUMMER COLD.

A New York Alderman's Letter Concerning Pe-ru-na.

LOUIS F. CARDANI.

Hon. Louis F. Cardani, Alderman 29th District, New York City, writes from 907 Sixth Avenue, as follows: "I contracted a serious cold last summer which persisted in staying with me and nothing would drive it away until I took Peru-na. I four days I felt much better, and at the end of the week all unpleasant symptoms had disappeared and I was well again. I am not in the habit of giving testimonials, but I make an exception in your case with much pleasure."—LOUIS F. CARDANI.

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peru-na, write at once to Dr. Hartman, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

took a different view of it, and his conduct of the recent trials shows that he was honest, faithful and earnest in his desire to see the law enforced.

"After the jury failed to agree he promptly transferred the cases to a county against which there could be no possible objection on the part of the prosecution. He has called a special term of the Breathitt Court for the further investigation of crimes committed in that county, and I believe that it will be only a short time before every citizen in the county will see that the law is supreme and that there must be an end of crime.

"I believe Judge Redwine is earnest in his desire to vindicate the majesty of the law in this, his home county, but I have advised him, I have no right to do any more, that on account of the peculiar condition there he refuse to sit and allow me to appoint a Judge at that special term of court.

"Wherever it has been possible for me to co-operate with these officials in establishing and enforcing the law I have done so, and will continue to do so. I have thus explained some details of this affair in deference to those critics who have been honest and not unfriendly.

Very Remarkable Cure of Diarrhoea.

"About six years ago for the first time in my life I had a sudden and severe attack of diarrhoea," says Mrs. Alice Miller of Morgan, Texas. "I got temporary relief, but it came back again and again, and for six long years I have suffered more misery and agony than I can tell. I was worse than death. My husband spent hundreds of dollars for physicians' prescriptions and treatment without avail. Finally we moved to Boque county, our present home, and one day I happened to see an advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy with a testimonial of a man who had been cured by it. The case was so similar to my own that I concluded to try the remedy. The result was wonderful. I could hardly realize that I was well again, or believe it could be so after having suffered so long, but that one bottle of medicine, costing but a few cents, cured me."
